BRIAN O'NEAL HEAD COACH

2nd year
Ole Miss, 1993

After helping build Florida into a national championship program, former Ole Miss student-athlete and assistant coach Brian O'Neal returned home to Mississippi to take the helm of the Rebel track and field/cross country program as head coach on June 12, 2012.

His first year at the helm of the Ole Miss program was a success, as he led the men to their best ever national outdoor finish and the women to their best ever SEC cross country finish.

Highlighted by the Rebels' first ever NCAA pole vault champion, Sam Kendricks, and scintillating sprinter Isiah Young, the Ole Miss men finished No. 8 at the 2013 NCAA Outdoor Championships in O'Neal's first season.

Kendricks set all sorts of records during his sophomore season en route to the national title. Among those was his school-record vault of 19-0.75 at the Texas Relays, which was the best in the NCAA since 1998 and No. 5 all-time in collegiate history.

O'Neal helped Young develop into one of the world's top sprinters in 2013. Young shattered school records in the 100 (9.93) and 200 (19.86), and competed for Team USA in the latter at the 2013 World Championships to follow up his 2012 London Olympics appearance. He placed runner-up in the 200 and third in the 100 at the NCAA Championships, while he was SEC champion in the 200 and SEC runner-up in the 100. Young signed a professional contract with Nike upon the completion of his senior year.

In his debut season as head coach, he guided Ole Miss athletes to seven All-America honors with one NCAA champion and two SEC champions.

One of O'Neal's first tasks was to strengthen the Rebels' distance program, and he made a good first step with the women's team placing fourth at the 2012 SEC Cross Country Championships for their best showing ever. In addition, Katie Breathitt became the first female in school history to compete at the NCAA Cross Country Championships.

A native of nearby Pontotoc, O'Neal is the third head coach in the modern history of the Ole Miss track and field program. He took the reins from his former coach, Joe Walker, after Walker's 30-year career with the Rebels.

O'Neal was the 2009 national assistant coach of the year at Florida and helped the Gators to four national championships and three runner-up finishes in his four years there.

In his 19-year coaching career at Ole Miss and Florida, O'Neal has mentored numerous NCAA champions, SEC champions and Olympic athletes.

While coaching the women's jumpers and assisting Mike Holloway with the sprints, hurdles and relays, O'Neal helped the Gator men's team capture four NCAA team championships and three runner-up finishes over four years. The women's team also collected three top-10 NCAA finishes during O'Neal's time in Gainesville.

In 2012, the Florida men were crowned national champions at the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships.

Between the indoor and outdoor SEC Championships, he also helped lead the Gator men to two league titles and the women to three league crowns. Neither team finished lower than fifth at any SEC meet during O'Neal's four-year tenure. He mentored UF athletes to 45 All-America honors, 14 All-American relays and 25 SEC titles.

Among the stars that developed under O'Neal's tutelage at Florida were 2012 NCAA indoor and outdoor triple jump champion Omar Craddock, four-time NCAA men's triple jump champion Christian Taylor and seven-time SEC champion and four-time All-American Shara Proctor in the women's triple and long jumps.

In 2012, he coached Craddock to the phenomenal status of indoor and outdoor NCAA champion, as well as indoor and outdoor SEC champion. He also mentored freshman Ciarra Brewer to the SEC women's triple jump title, in large part because of a change in technique, recommended by O'Neal, that helped her become the No. 2-ranked triple jumper in UF history.

In 2010, O'Neal mentored freshman sprinter Lanie Whittaker to become the 2010 SEC Indoor Co-Freshman of the Year after a fourth-place finish in the 400-meter run at the SEC Indoor Championships and running the third leg of Florida's 4x400-meter relay that ran the school's fastest time in that event since the 2005 season.

In his first year at Florida, O'Neal was named the 2009 USTFCCA Men's Indoor National Assistant Coach of the Year after guiding the Gators to NCAA runner-up finishes at the national indoor and outdoor meet. That year he helped develop Taylor, who won the 2009 NCAA Indoor triple jump title as a freshman and also was the Cliff Harper Trophy recipient at the 2009 SEC Indoor Championships as the league's high points scorer with individual championships in the long jump, triple jump and 4x400-meter relay.

The final season of his 14-year assistant coaching tenure at Ole Miss saw O'Neal distinguished with 2008 USTFCCA South Region Women's Assistant Coach of the Year honors. That year he mentored Kenyata Coleman to a fifth-place finish in the 400-meter dash at the NCAA Championships and All-America honors, as well as the 400-meter SEC title. LaJada Baldwin was also an All-America selection in the 400, holding a personal-best time of 52.51. Both advanced to the U.S. Olympic Track and Field Trials.

Also in 2008, O'Neal coached four women in the 400-meter hurdle finals at the SEC Outdoor Championships, and Brittney Reese was fifth at the SEC Indoor Championships in the 60-meter dash. Reese was the 2008 NCAA indoor and outdoor champion in the long jump and represented the U.S. in the 2008 Olympics in Beijing after winning the U.S. Olympic trials.

O'Neal was promoted to Ole Miss associate coach for his final three seasons in Oxford and was responsible for coaching the sprints, relays and hurdles for the Rebels, as well as serving as the team's recruiting coordinator. After joining the staff in 1994, O'Neal was promoted to a full-time assistant in 1995.

In all, O'Neal coached 12 athletes to top-four finishes at the NCAA Championships during his first stop at Ole Miss. He also mentored 18 athletes to earn 39 All-America honors and seven SEC champions in that 14-year span.

In 2007, under O'Neal's direction, the Lady Rebels set a school record in the 4x100-meter relay as the quartet of Kadeshia Fortune, Cachet Murray, Kim Mulkey and Coleman posted a time of 44.49 at the SEC Championships. The Ole Miss 4x100-meter relay team would go on to finish 11th at the NCAA Championships. O'Neal also guided Coleman to a school record in the 400 meters en route to her selection as an NCAA Outdoor All-American.

Antwon Hicks, under O'Neal's guidance, was a two-time NCAA indoor champion in the 60-meter hurdles, claiming the national title in 2004 and 2005. John Yarbrough was the NCAA outdoor runner-up in the 110-meter hurdles in 2007, while Hicks was the runner-up in that event in 2005.

In 2003, O'Neal helped Kendrick Triggs to a fantastic season, culminating in Ole Miss' first individual SEC Indoor Championship in 10 years when Triggs captured the 200-meter title.

O'Neal's sprinters shattered school records in 11 events in 2001. The UM sprinters also excelled on a national and international level. Ole Miss was represented by three athletes who competed for USA teams over the summer. Teneeshia Jones competed in the World University Games, Triggs competed in the Junior Pan American Games and Savante Stringfellow competed at both the World Championships and the Goodwill Games.

Stringfellow was the USA indoor and outdoor champion in 2000 and also claimed the NCAA Outdoor Championship in 2000, representing the U.S. in the 2000 Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia.

Under O'Neal's guidance, Jones won the 2001 SEC title in the 100-meter hurdles and finished her career with eight All-America honors and seven school records. James Shelton was the 2001 NCAA runner-up in the indoor 60 meters, garnering his first All-America honor. Triggs set the Ole Miss record in the indoor 200 and went on to post an outdoor personal-best with his runner-up finish in the USATF Junior Nationals 200.

O'Neal directed the men's 4x400 relay team to the Championship of America title at the Penn Relays in 1999, the last year the Rebels would compete at the historic event.

In his second season at Ole Miss, O'Neal coached the No. 1 and No. 3-ranked 400-meter men in the NCAA with Brad Pride winning the SEC Championship with a mark of 45.29 and Ed Odom posting a time of 45.35.

In his first season with the Rebels, O'Neal coached Greg Saddler to an NCAA Indoor Championship in the 55 meters and coached the men's 4x400-meter relay team to an SEC runner-up finish and a fifth-place finish at the NCAA Championships. His 4x400 relay team that year set a then-SEC record of 3:02.30.

O'Neal was a four-year letterman as a middle-distance runner for the Rebels. He was a member of three relay teams that finished in the top three at the SEC Championships, including the 1990 SEC runner-up 4x800-meter relay team.

A 1993 graduate of Ole Miss with a bachelor's degree in public administration, O'Neal is married to Ole Miss graduate and former Rebelette LaChonda Carter. The couple has three children, a son Cameron LaBrian and daughters Cayden Shree and Camille Brianna.

GREG STRINGER
ASSISTANT COACH
 6th year
 Southern Miss, 1995
 Jumps, Combined Events

Now in his sixth season as an assistant coach with Ole Miss Track & Field, Greg Stringer has quite literally helped take the Rebels to new heights.

Working with jumpers and multi-event athletes, Stringer's pupils have enjoyed a high level of success since his arrival in Oxford.

Stringer's work with Ricky Robertson has paid great dividends for Ole Miss. In 3 and 1/2 seasons at Ole Miss, Robertson is a seven-time All-American and six-time SEC champion in the high jump and has shattered the school record books in that event. In 2013, he became the second SEC athlete ever to achieve four straight conference indoor high jump titles. Three times he has finished runner-up at the NCAA Championships, including both the indoor and outdoor championships as a sophomore in 2011.

Robertson soared to a mark of 7-7.25 at the Florida Relays in 2012 to break his own school record and claim the best jump in the world for much of the 2012 season. He competed internationally at the 2010 NACAC U-23 Championships, winning silver in the high jump. Another high jumper, Brian Knight, was a 2010 All-American.

The Rebel long and triple jumpers have had success under Stringer, as well. Rachel Jenkins was crowned SEC outdoor champion in the women's long jump in 2012 and was the SEC indoor runner-up in 2010. Caleb Lee earned All-America status in the long jump three times in his career, while Morris Kersh was a one-time All-American and two-time NCAA Championship participant in the triple jump.

Multi-event competitors Fabia McDonald and Mary Ashton Nall have flourished under Stringer's tutelage. Nall had a breakout season in 2013, making the NCAA Outdoor Championships and being tabbed a USTFCCA All-American in the heptathlon. In 2012, McDonald was runner-up in the SEC outdoor heptathlon. She competed at both the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships and was named an Indoor All-American in the pentathlon.

Both McDonald and Nall were heptathlon participants in the 2011 USA Junior Championships, and McDonald was tabbed the 2011 SEC Indoor Female Field Athlete of the Year after a school-record performance in the pentathlon.

Stringer enjoyed immediate success during his first season at Ole Miss as he coached an SEC champion in 2009. Jumper Wale Odetunde won the triple jump at the SEC Outdoor Championships and became the first Rebel since 1992 to accomplish that feat. Odetunde was named to the All-SEC first team before going on to qualify for the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

Stringer came to Ole Miss after a 10-year stint at Southern Mississippi, where he worked primarily with the Golden Eagle jumpers.

Under Stringer's tutelage in 2008, Southern Miss jumper Ashley May competed in the NCAA Outdoor Championships in both the long jump and triple jump. In addition, May was named All-Region in both events as she turned in fifth-place finishes. Along the way, May set a new school record in the triple jump and placed third at the Conference USA Outdoor Championships. She also took second in the long jump in at the C-USA Indoor Championships with an NCAA provisional mark.

Stringer consistently had performers provide ample scoring for the Golden Eagles in the jumps. In 2006, he produced the Conference USA long jump title winner in Tanika Liburd. His triple jumpers finished second (Simona Costache) and seventh (Aaliyah Shareef) in the C-USA meet. His men's performers scored a total of 11 points in the C-USA meet.

In 2005, he had two performers win Conference USA titles in the women's triple jump (Aaliyah Shareef) and high jump (Krista Miller). Tanika Liburd finished second in the long jump. Liburd recorded an outstanding jump of 21-08.75 at the LSU meet, ranking her in the NCAA top five. In 2004, two performers won Conference USA titles in the men's high jump and the women's long jump, with other jumpers scoring points in the men's long jump and triple jump. His Lady Eagles scored additional points in the high jump and triple jump.

Over his last four seasons at Southern Miss, he had 19 athletes qualify for the regional meet, with high jumper Cedric Norman winning the regional competition and finishing third in the national meet in 2003 and in 2004. Norman finished third at the regional meet and finished in a tie for ninth at the national meet. That same season, Norman recorded a personal-best jump of 7-06.00, ranking as the best jump in the world for several weeks.

In 2005, Krista Miller finished first at the regional meet in the high jump, advancing to the national meet. She recorded a personal best and school record jump of 5-11.25. Miller was a three-time regional qualifier. High jumper Kate Juedes received all-regional honors after tying for seventh in 2003.

Stringer was a two-year letterwinner for Marshall Bell at Southern Miss as a junior and senior in both indoor and outdoor track during the 1993 and 1994 seasons. He competed in the high jump, long jump and the decathlon. He took fifth place in the decathlon at the Metro Championships in 1993, helping the Eagles win their second straight Metro Conference title. Stringer followed that Metro performance with a sixth-place finish in the 1994 championships.

During his junior college days, Stringer helped his team, Hinds Community College, to the Mississippi Junior College state championship in 1990 and 1991. While competing at Hinds, he was named the most valuable athlete in the field events in 1991.

Stringer was a four-year letterman in track for Coach Frank Keenum at Terry High School. He was named the most valuable athlete in the field events for two consecutive years. He also lettered three years in basketball and was voted the best defensive player in the 1988-89 season.

He received his undergraduate degree in 1995 in sport administration and coaching with an emphasis in biological science from Southern Miss. He received his master's degree in education administration in 1999 at Southern Miss.

He is married to the former Angela Mickey of New Orleans, La. The couple has four children, Endia, Gregory, Erin Alexis and Gabrielle Elise.

ERIN DAWSON
ASSISTANT COACH
 2nd year
 Texas, 2004
 Distance

Erin Dawson is in her second season as an assistant coach for the Ole Miss track & field and cross country programs.

Dawson works primarily with the women's distance runners, who have shown much improvement under her tutelage. She also assists with recruiting.

In her first season with the Rebels, Dawson helped guide the Ole Miss women to a fourth-place showing at the 2012 SEC Cross Country Championships, the best SEC team finish in school history. Senior Katie Breathitt captured the best SEC finish by a Rebel female in school history with a ninth-place result, and she also became the first female in school history to earn a berth in the NCAA Cross Country Championships.

On the track, Dawson helped guide the Rebel women to six new school records in 2013 - the indoor mile (Halley Cutright, 4:50.47), 3,000 meters (Cutright, 9:36.37) and distance medley relay (11:30.13) and the outdoor 5,000 (Kayleigh Skinner, 16:39.63), 10,000 (Skinner, 34:59.20) and 3,000 steeplechase (Cutright, 10:21.60).

Dawson arrived in Oxford after a five-year stint at Arizona, where she coached the men's and women's distance runners and assisted with recruiting. During her time there, she helped guide Wildcat runners to NCAA titles and numerous All-America accolades.

In the 2011-12 season, Dawson helped mentor Lawi Lalang to an NCAA Cross Country Championship, as well as a pair of NCAA Indoor titles in the 3,000 and 5,000 meters. He was named the USTFCCA Men's Cross Country Athlete of the Year and the Men's Indoor Athlete of the Year. Lalang and his teammate, Stephen Sambu, produced numerous Pac-12 titles and All-America honors during the season.

The Arizona men's team finished third at the 2012 NCAA Indoor Championships, its highest finish in school history. The women's cross country team placed 19th at the 2011 NCAA Cross Country Championships.

In the women's 10,000 meters, Elvin Kibet took seventh place at the NCAA Outdoor Championships with the second-best time in UA history. Kibet also placed 11th in the 5,000 meters. Jen Bergman placed 12th in the 10,000, good for second-team All-America honors. Bergman finished the year as an All-Pac-12 runner in the 10,000 meters and 5,000 meters.

On the track in 2011, the middle distance and distance runners won three Pac-10 Outdoor titles, two Mountain

Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) Indoor titles, earned 10 All-America accolades and collected 12 All-Pac-10 honors. Top performances included a bronze finish in the 10,000 meters by Bergman at the NCAA Outdoor Championships and a 1-2 sweep by Lalang and Sambu in the 5,000 meters at the Pac-10 Outdoor Championships. Maggie Callahan won the Pac-10 Outdoor title in the 3,000-meter steeplechase and Hannah Moen set a school record in the event at the NCAA Prelims with her time of 10:10.61.

Sambu was named the Pac-10 Men's Newcomer of the Year for his bronze finish at the 2011 NCAA Outdoor 10,000 meters and a win in the same race at the Pac-10 Outdoor Championships. On the season, he collected two All-America honors and two All-Pac-10 certificates. He also set school records in the 5,000 meters indoors (13:28.48) and the 10,000 meters outdoors (27:28.64).

In 2010, Sambu was a cross country All-American, the NCAA West Region runner-up and earned a fifth-place finish at the Pac-10 Championships. For his efforts, he was named the 2010 Pac-10 Athlete of the Year and Newcomer of the Year.

Dawson helped lead the women's cross country team to their first NCAA Championship appearance in eight years during the 2009 campaign and an 11th-place finish at the 2010 NCAA Cross Country Championships. The squad earned a runner-up finish at the Pac-10 Championships with four runners earning All-Pac-10 accolades.

Dawson was an assistant coach for two years at Northern Arizona University prior to her move to Tucson.

In her final season with the Lumberjacks in 2006-07, Dawson played an integral part in coaching the men's team to a fourth-place finish and the women's team to a seventh-place finish at the NCAA Cross Country Championships. This marked the first time NAU posted two top-eight team finishes in the school history.

In her time at NAU, Lopez Lomong won two NCAA titles in the indoor 3,000 meters and the outdoor 1,500 meters.

Dawson assisted the NAU women to win both the indoor and outdoor Big Sky Conference championships in 2006. Johanna Nilsson claimed NCAA Championship titles in the indoor mile and 3,000 meters, en route to being named the NCAA Indoor Track Athlete of the Year.

Prior to her stint at NAU, Dawson taught ESL and Spanish at Stony Point High School in Round Rock, Texas. She worked as the head cross country and track and field coach where she produced the first 5A regional qualifying team in cross country for the school.

As a student-athlete, Dawson helped guide the Texas Longhorns to the 2003 NCAA Cross Country Championships. That same season, her team delivered a first-place finish at the NCAA South Central Regional Championships - the first in 15 years at Texas. On the track, Dawson contributed conference efforts in the mile, 3,000 meters and steeplechase. She was a member of the 2004 Big 12 Outdoor Championship team.

While at Texas, Dawson was named to the 2003 and 2004 Academic All-Big 12 teams. She has continued to run marathons after college, competing in the Compaq Houston Marathon, Freescale Austin Marathon and the P.F. Chang's Phoenix Marathon.

A native of The Woodlands, Texas, Dawson is a 2004 graduate of the University of Texas. After earning bachelor's degrees in Spanish and history, she returned to earn a post baccalaureate degree in secondary education. She received her master's degree in educational psychology with an emphasis in school counseling while at NAU.

MARIAM
KEVKHISHVILI-
MACHAVARIANI
ASSISTANT COACH

1st year
Florida, 2011
Throws

A former Olympian and NCAA shot put champion, Mariam Kevkhishvili-Machavariani is in her first season on the Ole Miss track & field staff as an assistant coach overseeing the Rebel throwers.

Kevkhishvili-Machavariani brings an extraordinary competitive résumé with her to Oxford. She competed in the shot put at the 2004 Athens Olympics and the 2008 Beijing Olympics for her native country of Georgia, and she was a five-time national champion in the shot put while at the University of Florida.

Kevkhishvili-Machavariani graduated from Florida in 2011 with a bachelor's degree in sociology. During her time in Gainesville, she became just the second athlete in NCAA history to claim five women's shot put national championships (indoors and outdoors combined) and the second woman to claim both the NCAA indoor and outdoor women's shot put titles in back-to-back seasons. She did not lose a competition to a collegiate competitor (indoors or outdoors) in her final two seasons.

She finished her Florida career as the school record holder in the indoor shot (61-0) and the SEC championship shot put record holder for both indoor (59-4.25) and outdoor (59-2.75). In addition to her five NCAA titles (2008 indoor, 2009 indoor, 2009 outdoor, 2010 indoor, 2010 outdoor), she was a five-time SEC champion, the 2009 SEC Indoor Field Athlete of the Year and the 2010 SEC Outdoor Field Athlete of the Year. She helped lead the Gator women to the 2009 SEC outdoor title and 2010 SEC indoor title, as well as a third-place finish at the 2010 NCAA Outdoor Championships and fourth-place result at the 2010 NCAA Indoor Championships.

A native of Tbilisi, Georgia, Kevkhishvili-Machavariani represented her country as an 18-year-old at the 2004 Olympic Games in Athens, Greece and then again in 2008 in Beijing, China. She has also competed at the 2009 World Championships and 2010 and 2013 European Championships.

RYAN VANHOY
ASSISTANT COACH

1st year
North Carolina, 2009
Distance

Ryan Vanhoy is in his first season as an assistant coach on the Ole Miss track & field staff.

He coaches the men's distance runners in cross country and on the track.

Vanhoy comes to Oxford after one year at Northeastern University and the previous three at the University of North Carolina.

At Northeastern, Vanhoy coached NU runners to four Colonial Athletic Association conference titles and helped develop Eric Jenkins into an All-American in the indoor 3,000 meters and outdoor 5,000 meters. In 2013, Jenkins became the fourth-fastest American collegian ever at 5,000 meters (13:18.57) and also ran a sub 4-minute mile (3:58.11).

Vanhoy spent the previous three years with the North Carolina Tar Heels, where he helped produce two Atlantic Coast Conference champions, five NCAA East Preliminary qualifiers and two Olympic Trails qualifiers. In 2012, he guided Isaac Presson and Ashley Verplank to conference titles in the mile and 1,500 meters, respectively.

After two years as an assistant coach at UNC, Vanhoy was promoted to head men's and women's cross country coach in January 2012 and was responsible for recruiting and implementation of training programs for more than 40 student-athletes, in addition to other administrative and operational duties.

During the 2012-13 season, he mentored the men's distance medley relay team, which broke a school record that had stood for 27 years.

Prior to his promotion, Vanhoy worked as an assistant track and field and cross country coach for two seasons. While coaching the men's middle distance runners, he also managed areas of team compliance, travel and recruiting.

Vanhoy, who was a member of the Tar Heels' track team, graduated from North Carolina in 2009 with a Bachelor's of Science in biology. The Asheboro, N.C., native earned his master's degree in exercise physiology from UNC in 2012.

ALONZO BANKS
VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT

1st year
Ole Miss, 1999
Middle Distance

A three-time All-American while competing for Ole Miss in the late 1990s, Alonzo Banks joined the track & field staff at his alma mater as a volunteer assistant coach in the fall of 2013.

Banks helps mentor the middle distance runners under the direction of head coach Brian O'Neal.

He returns to his alma mater after working for the City of Jackson since 2003. Most recently, he served as a recreation supervisor since 2011. He was a youth outreach supervisor from 2009-11.

As a sprinter in the long sprints during his college career from 1995-99, he earned Indoor All-America honors for his efforts in the 400 meters in 1996, 4x400-meter relay in 1999 and 800 meters in 1999. He was the SEC 400-meter outdoor champion in 1996 and runner-up in 1997, while scoring points for Ole Miss throughout his SEC career in the 400, 800 and 4x400 relay.

A native of Liberty, Miss., Banks graduated from Ole Miss in 1999 with a bachelor's degree in exercise science. He is married to former Ole Miss track athlete Kogrecha Joy Banks, a graduate of Jackson State University. The couple has four children: three sons, Tyrenzo, Ta'Zion and Taahir, and one daughter, Ti'Alone'. Alonzo's brother, Nate Banks, was a football letterman at Ole Miss from 2004-2007.

SCOTT KENDRICKS
VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT

2nd year
 Ole Miss, 1983
 Pole Vault

Now in his second season as a volunteer assistant coach for the Ole Miss track & field program, Scott Kendricks has helped lead the pole vaulters at his alma mater to record-breaking accomplishments since his arrival in the fall of 2012.

Sam Kendricks, Scott's son, captured the first pole vault national title in school history with a victory at the 2013 NCAA Outdoor Championships. It was the 13th NCAA individual title overall for the Ole Miss track & field program and highlighted an incredible season for the sophomore from Oxford. Through the 2013 outdoor campaign, Sam broke his own indoor and outdoor school records by 12 inches each, posting new marks of 18-4.5 in the indoor season and 19-0.75 outdoors. His record outdoor mark was the world leader for several weeks and was the best NCAA vault since 1998 and No. 5 all-time in collegiate competition. In addition to his outdoor national title, he achieved third place at the NCAA indoor meet. He went on to compete at the 2013 World University Games, earning the gold medal in Kazan, Russia.

Scott Kendricks joined the Rebel staff after 14 years as head cross country and track coach at Oxford High School, which he established in 1999. He led Oxford to 11 state championships during those 14 years.

Although he coached 62 individual state champions in all 17 high school track events, along with five All-Americans, Kendricks became a respected specialist in the vertical jumps of pole vault and high jump. Kendricks coached 21 state medalists and 11 state champions in the pole vault and three high jumpers that achieved heights of 6-10 (Kenny Mullin), 6-11 (Cortez Harris) and 7-2.5 (Justin Fondren). Fondren tied the freshman national record of 7-0, placed second at nationals as a 10th grader, became national champion as an 11th grader and took second at the World Youth Games under Kendricks.

In the pole vault, Kendricks guided his own son from 8-6 as a 7th grader to 17-0 as a senior, which is the highest vault all-time by a Mississippi scholastic vaulter. During 2012, Scott continued to work with his son and Ole Miss vault coach Doug Blackwell as Sam set Ole Miss indoor (17-4.5) and outdoor (18-0.5) records during his freshman year.

While at Oxford High School, Kendricks and his girls vault squad successfully lobbied the State of Mississippi to allow girls to vault in the Mississippi State Meet. His girls won eight out of the nine (4A and 5A) state titles since the event began in 2004 and they won both boy and girls' 5A titles for three consecutive years (2010-2012).

Kendricks also coached All-American sprinter Horatio Williams while at Oxford along with 18 other athletes who qualified for the National Scholastic Championships in the sprints, jumps and relays. Kendricks was chosen Mississippi High School Coach of the Year three times.

While at Oxford High School, Kendricks' Chargers never lost a home invitational track meet, practice meet or dual meet during his entire tenure of 14 years. During that same time period, many of his athletes and relay teams posted some of the best marks in the nation. Several times during his high school coaching career, Oxford High was ranked by Dyestat as one of the top five schools in the U.S. for vertical jumps, sprints and relays.

Kendricks lettered in varsity track under head coach Joe Walker when he attended Ole Miss from 1979-83. After graduation, he served as a United States Marines captain where he served as a Reconnaissance and Light Attack Pilot.

He is married to Marni Kendricks, who is the Assistant Dean of Engineering at Ole Miss. They have twin sons, Sam and Tom (who both attend Ole Miss), along with a 13-year-old daughter, Charli, and an 8-year-old son, John Scott.

BASIL WETHERINGTON
COORDINATOR OF OPERATIONS

2nd year
 Florida, 2002

Basil Wetherington is in his second season as the Coordinator of Operations for the Ole Miss track & field and cross country programs.

Wetherington is responsible for a wide variety of day-to-day functions for the Rebels, including student-athlete development, equipment management, travel arrangements and scheduling.

Prior to his arrival in Oxford, Wetherington was a volunteer coach for several youth organizations over the previous five years, including the Gainesville (Fla.) Striders Track & Field Club. He holds a certificate in track & field technical coaching from the USTFCCA.

The 2002 University of Florida graduate worked as a biological scientist in the Department of Environmental Horticulture at his alma mater. His tasks included managing field operations and research grants for the Florida Department of Environmental Protection and serving as a project manager, among other duties.

A native of Englewood, Fla., Wetherington has also worked as an event planner for associations as well as an assistant golf course superintendent throughout his career.

He and his wife, Karre, live in Oxford with their son, Connor Brian, and daughter, Peyton Brooke.

2013 YEAR IN REVIEW

Brian O'Neal's first year as head coach for the Ole Miss track & field and cross country programs proved successful in 2012-13.

Hired in June 2012, O'Neal returned to his alma mater with the goals of increasing the program's expectations for championships and bolstering an undersized roster through recruiting.

Those goals were accomplished, as the Rebel men produced their highest national finish in school history with an eighth-place showing at the NCAA Outdoor Championships, and the coaching staff reeled in a star-studded recruiting class with nearly 50 new athletes signing to become Ole Miss Rebels.

Sophomore Sam Kendricks won the program's 13th individual national championship and first ever in the pole vault at the NCAA outdoor meet. Senior Isiah Young capped his amazing Rebel career with a runner-up NCAA finish in the 200 meters and third-place result in the 100.

Young went on to earn a spot on Team USA for the 2013 World Championships, running a scintillating school record of 19.86 in the 200 at the USA Championships. He broke his own school records in the 200 and the 100 (9.93) at the USA meet, becoming one of the only people in the world to break 10 seconds in the 100 and 20 seconds in the 200 in 2013. He joined former Rebel Brittney Reese at the World Championships in Moscow, with Reese winning her third straight world outdoor long jump crown and sixth overall international championship.

Young led the Rebels at the 2013 SEC Outdoor Championships when he claimed his second straight 200-meter title and finished runner-up in the 100. He captured the SEC Commissioner's Trophy for scoring the most points at the conference meet and was named SEC Runner of the Year, as well as USTFCCA South Region Track Athlete of the Year.

Between indoor and outdoor competition in 2012-13, Ole Miss boasted one NCAA champion, one NCAA runner-up, two SEC champions, seven All-America honors, one Academic All-American and 34 SEC Academic Honor Roll members.

All-Americans included Kendricks (outdoor and indoor pole vault), Young (outdoor 100 and 200 meters), Mary Ashton Nall (outdoor heptathlon), Ricky Robertson (indoor high jump) and Asia Cooper (indoor 60 meters). Sofia Hellberg-Jonsen was named a Capital One Academic All-American.

In the fall, the women's cross country team posted its best SEC finish in school history with a fourth-place result behind All-SEC senior Katie Breathitt. Breathitt also led the Rebels to fifth place at the NCAA South Regional, and she became the first Ole Miss woman to ever advance to the NCAA Cross Country Championships.

Barnabas Kirui is the only athlete in school history and just the fourth in conference history to win three SEC Cross Country Championships, earning the crown in 2006, 2009 and 2010. He was named SEC Cross Country Athlete of the Year all three of those seasons, as well as All-Region. In 2009, he finished fourth at the National Championships to become the first ever cross country All-American at Ole Miss.

Logan Waites finished in first place in every meet in which she competed during her stellar four-year career (2008-11). She became the first Rebel woman to earn All-SEC distinction when she placed 11th at the SEC Championships in 2011.
